SURVIVING THE ECONOMICS OF THE 80'S

Mayor Richard Gordon Hatcher Mayor of Gary, Indiana, will be the featured speaker at a Conference presented by Black Alliance Through Unity (BANTU) and Child and Family Welfare Project Social Work Department of Pacific Lutheran University during their 1982 Black Awareness Month celebration Friday, Feb. 26 at a day-long conference entitled "Surviving the Economics of the 80's."

Mayor Richard G. Hatcher began an unprecedented fourth term as Mayor of Gary, Indiana on January 1, 1980. In his 12 years in office the Mayor has become a leading national spokesman for the needs of the cities, as is demonstrated by his assumption in 1980 of the Chairmanship of the U.S. Conference of Mayors.

The Mayor is also one of the nation's most respected leaders of Black people. The offer from President Carter in 1978 that the Mayor becomes a member of the White House Staff (which the Mayor regretfully declined in order to complete his commitment to the people of Gary) is further indication of his national stature.

Mayor Hatcher is a member of the nation's leading civil rights and urban-interest organizations, and is also the Chairman of the Board of TransAfrica, an African affairs lobby. His interest in African matters was increased when he represented the United States at the funeral of Mzee Jomo Kenyatta, President and founder of Kenya. In the summer of 1979, the Mayor visited the People's Republic of China at the invitation of the Chinese government, with a delegation of leaders of the U.S. Conference of Mayors.

Mayor Hatcher has been the recipient of many awards and honors, and has published a number of important articles in leading journals concerned with civil rights and urban affairs.

Conference facilitators include a slate of prominent national, state and local Black professionals; Dr. Jay Chunn II, Dean of School of Social Work, Howard University; Thelma Crivens, J.D. U.S. Civil rights Commission; Norwood Brooks, Commissioner Washington State Employment Security Department; Lyle Quasim, Assistant Director Institutional Programs for Mental Health State of Washington; Bishop T.L. Westbrook, D.D. Pastor of New Jerusalem Church of God in Christ, Rindetta Stewart, Assistant Superintendent of Tacoma Public Schools and Phillip Miner, Senior Associate Dean of Admissions Pacific Lutheran University to name a few.

Following the conference will be an evening program and reception featuring the Honorable Richard G. Hatcher, Mayor of Gary, Indiana. He will address the conference topic "Surviving the Economics of the 80's."

For ticket information call PLU Office of Minority Affairs 535-7195.

A BLACK HISTORY DAY

Rev. Leo C. Brown, Jr.

TACOMA-- In recognition of Black History Week, Feb. 5, 1982 has been proclaimed Rev. Leo Charles Brown, Jr. Day in the State of Washington by Gov. John Spellman, in Pierce County by County Executive Booth Gardner and in Tacoma by Tacoma's Mayor Doug Sutherland.

Rev. Brown has made meritorious contributions to the City of Tacoma, Pierce County and the State of Washington. He has dedicated his life to solving the problems associated with poverty, the criminal justice system, and where burdens have been placed upon human kind. Rev. Brown is a unique man in his style of providing Christian leadership through his church and his attempts to solve the very complex and difficult social problems which face this state and nation. Rev. Brown is the founder-pastor of True Vine Community Church at North 33rd and Pearl Street.

"Many of the members were out of work when they first came into contact with the church," Brown said. "They didn't have much of anything and were looking for something to provide significant meaning in their lives." Rev. Brown contends ministry has two very strong emphasizes--family orientation and community involvement, through which evangelism and motivation occur.

Rev. Brown has overcome numerous and powerful barriers to establish programs for men and women offenders, low-income senior citizens, disadvantaged children, and other oppressed persons. He is the President/Executive Director of the Progress House Assoc., a work-release half-way house for ex-offenders; involved in the Black Coalition, which was organized to aid the poor and needy during a national and state-wide crisis; co-founder and member of the Board of Directors of the Ministerial Alliance Credit Union; and founder of the Senior Citizen low-income complex presently under construction in Tacoma. He organized the Emmanuel Temple prison Ministry at McNeil Island Federal Prison during his earlier ministry years; organized the first women's half-way house for work release and women parolees in the Tacoma/Pierce County area; and is the co-founder and director of the first Christian Youth Campt called operation Long Thrust for black and other low-income youth in the Tacoma/Pierce County area. Rev. Brown was also instrumental in organizing the black voter's drive held in 1980 by participating in the Tacoma Ministerial Alliance voter registration drive.

Rev. Brown personifies qualities which are basic and dear to the people of this state and this nation are succintly summarized in his motto "WHERE THERE IS NO VISION, THE PEOPLE PERISH."

WOMEN SPEAKS

We Can't Forget...

By Valerie D. Gordon

Once again the media has jolted our minds to the reality of the brutal murders of 28 black youths by the trial of Wayne Williams, a 23-years old black man arrested for two of the deaths. Accused of killing Nathaniel Cater, 27 and Jimmy Payne, 21, Williams pleaded his innocence as a result of one of the country's longest and most expensive police investigations.

Although the murders seem to have stopped in Atlanta and black mothers can again allow their young to play out of their reach, we can't forget the anguish and hurt the brutal slayings have caused on blacks everywhere and the nation as a whole. Children, mothers and loved ones have all been psychologically affected by these 28 deaths in wondering how civilized nation could tolerate such uncivilized acts. We can't forget. We shoul not forget. We can't rest until the perpetrators of the Atlanta slayings are found and justice administered. Perhaps the great prophet and wielder of justice himself, Isaiah the son of Amoz, said it best in his 57th chapter:

3. But draw near nither, ye sons of the sorceress, the sed of the adulterer and the whore.
4. Against whom do ye sport yourselves?against whom make ye a wide mouth, and draw out the tongue? are ye not children of transgression, a seed of falsehood,
5. inflaming yourselves with idols under every green tree, slaying the children in the valleys under the clifts of the rocks?
6. Among the smoth stones of the stream is they portion; they, they are the lot: even to them hast thou poured a drink offering, thou hast offered a meat offering. Should I receive comfort in these?
20. But the wicked are like the troubled sea, when it cannot rest, whose waters cast up mire and dirt.
21. There is no peace, said my God, to the wicked.

There won't be peace. We can't forget and let this evil repeat itself in future generations. We must not let the deaths of these youths be in vain.

A Tribute To Twenty-Eight

How long can the slaughter of helpless babes
plague our civilized world?
Twenty-five children dead...three missing?
More mangled bodies found...
I hear the voices of those black siblings
crying from their hollow graves
made with Georgia's red clay
The voices,loud empty voices,
full of despair
demanding justice and retribution of the souls who designed their bloody plight.
Along with these voices
are cries from generations past to awaken our black people
from our coma-state
As walking white zombies,
we search in vain for truth found in a false media world.
Confused and meaningless
are our lives as we copy what we see
and not what we know.
Wake-up black people
and realize the world you zerox
is the same one marking your destruction and the destruction of generations to come.

MEDIA REVIEW

A Time For Change

A review of Weekend Fathers, by Gerald A. and Myrna Silva (New York: Harper and Row, 1981). 236 pages—Hard Cover—$13.95.

Here is a book that speaks in the most compelling terms of the need for change in the legal and social arrangements of broken homes.

The Silvers make a highly persuasive—and an exquisitely portrayed—case for much more equitable approaches toward post-divorce adjustments between former spouses themselves in the best interests of their children.

As the title of this exceedingly provocative book implies, Weekend Fathers sets forth the premise that divorced fathers and mothers should share equally in the nurture of their children. Yet there is in our legal system the entrenched and traditional notion that "children belong to the mother." Thus 92 percent of the children of divorced parents are assigned to the custody of mothers.

Although there is a clear trend toward short term alimony payments, this movement is slow and, as the Silvers argue, these present arrangements may serve to keep families apart and to structure out both reconciliations and fresh unions of a long-term nature. You must agree with specific conclusions, but here is a book that will encourage a larger number of readers to work for swift changes in the nation's present post-divorce arrangements.

Malcolm's Sports Report

Congratulations goes out to the San Francisco 49ers, the world champions of football. It was a long time coming but, how sweet it is. It was a team effort. Everybody did what they had to do. What about the Super Sonics, 10 out of 12, not bad. By playoff time I hope Lenny lets Tolbert play more and let Donaldson do his thing, keeping that middle clogged. Foss Girls Basketball Team is still queen of the mountain. They look like state playoffs material. Good luck girls. Speaking of winners Dar' Shon Hemphill won again in Auburn, making 16 out of 25. Now she goes to the Kingdome in two weeks. I made an error on Al and Penny's last name, it is Mitchell. OK people? Good luck at the dome Dar' Shon. The Sportsmans Rest. knocked off another opponent 99 to 59. Willie Dale led the attack with 28 points followed by Barrett Gee and Larry Winters each with 21 Coleman 13 and Sweet Rusty Warren with 11. The showdown now is set up with the undefeated Shugduff Bombers. I will get a date on that next week. Woods Barbers coasted to their third victory 30 to 18. Rico Davis and Laffyett Battle had 10 points apiece. Attention: April 3, 1982 T.N. Millers vs. The Shugduff Tav. in Exhibtion playoffs. All other teams of Monday and Tuesday nights, the players are welcome to see this match of 36 games 18 games at the Shugduff and 18 at T.N. Millers Sat and Sun. April 3 and 4th. Join the party at T.N.s B enson D. Woods "Ben Big Hands." That should be a good match...good luck to both teams. Have any questions or answers, drop me a line. Malcolm, 1019 S. 12th, Tacoma, WA 98405. Here is one from me to you. Be good to yourself.

Jack Sikma joins Gus Williams and Lonnie Shelton on NBA West All-Star Team

Seattle SuperSonics center Jack Sikma was named to the West All-Star team for the fourth consecutive year today, joining teammate Gus Williams and Lonnie Shelton in the National Basketball Assoc. annual contest. As in previous years, Sikma's selection came as a result of a poll of Western Conference coaches. Willimas and Shelton were named to team last week, and received starting assignments by placing second in the All-Star fan balloting at their respective positions.

Also picked for the West team was Houston center Moses Malone, the league's top rebounder just ahead of Sikma, along with forwards Bernard King of the Golden State Warriors and Alex English of the Denver Nuggets and guards Earvin "Magic" Johnson and Norm Nixon of the Los Angeles Lakers and former Sonic Dennis Johnson of the Phoenix Suns.

They join the five starters chosen by fans participating in the Miller High Life/NBA All-Star voting: Kareem Abdul-Jabbar of the Los Angeles Lakers at center, Adrian Dantley of the Utah Jazz and Lonnie Shelton at forward, and George Gervin of San Antonio and Gus Williams at guard. The West team will be coached by Pat Riley of Los Angeles, whose club had the best record in the conference as of January 17.

Starting for the East team, to be coached by Boston's Bill Fitch, will be center Artis Gilmore of Chicago, forwards Larry Bird of Boston and Julius Erving of Philadelphia and guard Nate "Tiny" Archibald of Boston and Isiah Thomas of Detroit. Also on the East team are centers Bob Lanier of Milwaukee and Robert Parish of Boston, forwards Bobby Jones of Philadelphia, Dan Roundfield of Atlanta and Buck Williams of New Jersey and guards Sidney Moncrief of Milwaukee and Michael Ray Richardson of New York.

COMMUNITY ENTERTAINMENT

By Roger O.

A brief look into 1982. "Where are they"? Ed Taylor, Carl Marshall and Lennox Thomas have been recording for about a year, and have put together one of the finest, most versatile three piece group I have heard. They have several engagements at the "McChord Skylark Club". Their first is Wednesday, Feb. 3, 8:30 - 10:30 P.M.

"Readymade Family", Tacomas number one nine piece band, has been recording and doing a lot of producing and production work. One spokesman asked me not to mention anything, but a band such as "Readymade", I had to let one, or two cats out of the bag. But, look out Tacoma, come this summer, they will be busting loose in the parks, and all over Tacoma. More on them later.....
Ron (Wildman) Thomas, remember him? Well, he was the fore-runner of KTOY, a spin-off from M.D.C. He helped a lot of musicians, and trained a lot of D.J.'s He also was instrumental in Jonah's Whale. He is now volunteering his services at Al Davies Boy's Club in the area of promoting entertainment, drama, productions, special events and starting an Al Davies Boys Club Band.

T. McGhee, I understand is heading for Europe this summer.....
You will be hearing about another local band, "Omega", in my column.

Jonah's Whale....well they need no introduction, they played when the flag was put down at Fort Lewis.....I hope Ty doesn't read this.....
They are now performing at the Black Angus in Lakewood, Tuesday - Saturday....go check them out.

Don Dowell, KTOY D.J. will provide disco music at Al Davies Boys Club, Saturday, January 30th from 9:00 pm to 1:30 am for ages 15-20 only, $2.00 per person.

Keep reading this column, and the FACTS, and stay informed!!!

NEWS OF TELEPHONES

A new all-electronic telephone developed by Western Electric, the manufacturing and supply unit of the Bell System, offers many advantages for today's cost-conscious consumer. The innovative Touch-a-matic® S series phone is more reliable, more compact and less costly to produce in the long run.

The old familiar ring has been replaced by an ear-soothing "beep," and the dial by electronic buttons. You can call any one of 12 numbers in about three seconds by pressing just one button, and its computer-like microprocessor lets you reprogram one or all of the numbers quickly and easily.

The single-button system is a safety feature for homes with children, the handicapped or elderly because there's no need to look up emergency numbers if they're programmed into the dialer. It's a time-saver, too.

One of the new electronic components of the telephone is a special microphone that replaces the standard carbon transmitter. Compact and extremely sensitive to sound, it reproduces the voice with greater clarity.

Tiny electrical circuits—each less than an inch square—replace mechanical components. Miniaturization adds up to efficiency, ease of operation—and only one and a half pounds. That's what the entire unit weighs.

According to Western Electric engineers, the all-electronic telephone is a logical step ahead in a highly technological world. It's a far cry from the days of Alexander Graham Bell, and a practical result of today's telecommunications technology.

GOD'S PLAN FOR PEACE

The old Testament:
Psalm 122

I was glad when they said unto me, let us go into the house of the Lord. Our feet shall stand within thy gates, O Jerusalem. Jerusalem is builded as a city that is compact together: Whither the tribes go up, the tribes of the Lord, unto the testimony of Israel, to give thanks unto the name of the Lord. For there are set thrones of judgment, the thrones of the house of David.

Pray for the peace of Jerusalem: they shall prosper that love thee.

Peace be within thy walls, , and prosperity within thy palaces. For my brethren and companions' sakes, I will now say, Peace be within thee. Because of the house of the Lord our God I will seek thy good.

New Testament:
Hebrew 12:14

Follow peace with all men, and holiness, without which no man shall see the Lord.

JUBILATION IN CONCERT APPEARANCE

On Sunday, January 31, 3 pm, Seattle's hottest young vocal group, "Jubilation" will present their first major concert performance at Scottish Rite Temple, 1155 Broadway East. Door donation is $5

If you think hard work and dedication doesn't pay off then there is good news: it does. Less than a year old, "Jubilation" has already made an indelible impac ton audiences all over the NW from their appearances in musicals, concerts and other special events.

"Our music is message music," explains Alfred Taylor, spearhead of the group, who has written and arranged most of the material. "We want to reach everyone, people of all ages and backgrounds," Taylor added, "even the ones the churches don't reach."

Taylor, together with vocalists Larry Northington, Sam Smith and Barbara Bryon, creates a definite, driving contemporary sound that sooner or later brings an audience to its feet in celebration. Their voices seem to blend effortlessly and the results can be smooth, polished harmonies one minute and foot stomping gospel funk the next.

Supporting the dynamic vocals are jubilation's very capable musicians, who also sing: Jerry Smithson on organ, Chris on guitar, Gary Smith on bass and the incredible Darriel Menefee, a young drummer who has to be seen and heard to be believed.

Jubilation's audience was further expanded when an article on the group appeared in the Nov. 1981 issue of the Rocket, a local music magazine.

Jubilation recently emerged from the recording studio with a finished tape of several of their songs which has already caused considerable interest within recording circles.

The group recently began a West Coast tour which began in Portland, Oregon. This past Sunday found them receiving a standing ovation from a capacity audience at Love Center, the church founded by Walter and Edwin Hawkins in Oakland, California.

Winding up the tour will be their homecoming concert Sunday, Jan 31. So bring a friend and come share an unforgettable afternoon with the cream of our local talent in spirational music. You will see for yourself that hard work and dedication is indeed blessed with success.

Renewed Wedding

Mr. & Mrs. James E. Wynn, celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary and renewed their wedding vows on January 9, 1982 at Bethlehem Baptist Church at 3 pm. Their reception was held at the Masonic Hall, 1702 S. "K" in Tacoma, Wa. They received many lovely gifts. Their wedding vows were renewed by the Rev. Floyd Bullock.

The wedding party members were matron of honor, Carrol Fuller, Bridesmaids were Terry Shanks and Allison E. Martin, Flowergirl was E. Fuller, ring bearer was James C. Wynn, Best man was Mack E. Fuller, groomsmen and ushers were John Martin, Eddie Enoch and Quinn Fuller. Rodney E. Wynn, acted as father of the bride.

Out-of-town friends and guests were Mrs. Ada Davis, Mr. & Mrs. Lester Laris, Mr. & Mrs. Erskin Solomon, Mr. & Mrs. Jimmy Simmons, Mr. Charles Eakers, Mr. & Mrs. Jimmerson and Mrs. June Clark.

The Wynn's are formally from Chesapeake, Va. They have resided in Tacoma, wa. for the past seven years. They have three children, Patrice M. Jackson, of Michigan, Rodney E. Wynn and James C. Wynn of Tacoma, Wa. They also have two grandchildren living in Michigan.

The Wynn's attended the same elementary school, same Jr. High school and the same high school. After graduating from high school James attended Norfolk State College. In 1954 he enlisted into the air force. They were married on January 9, 1957 at St. Thomas AME Church in Norfolk, Va. During this time James, was stationed in Valdosta, Ga. at Moody Air Force Base. Their first two children were born at Moody Field. They lived in Valdosta, for seven years. They were later transferred to Tule, Greenland, at which time Jean and the children stayed in Va. Then Hampton, Va. where James C. was born in 1968, at Langley Field. They stayed there for seven years. Also in 1968, they were notified they were to go to Turkey. They stayed in Turkey for two and a half years and were sent to Barksdale Air Force Base in LA. They stayed in La. at Barksdale Air Froce Base for 18 months. Off again, this time James went to Tule, Greenland and the family once again went to Va. After one year they went to McChord Air Force Base in Tacoma, Wa wher eJames retired in 1979.

During the time spent in the Air Force the Wynn family has served in many of the different organizations on base. James has been coach for little league softball teams, Coach for the base basketball team in which they were champs. Club Scout leader, coach of many little league basketball teams. Jean, has been den mother for cub scouts, held many offices in family services, vice-president of N.C.O. Wives Club. The Wynn's think most of their years spent traveling have been enjoyable as well as fun, and to them it does not seem like they have been together for 25 years.

INNER CITY ENTERPRISE ZONES

During the last campaign Ronald Reagan hit upon an idea that he at least thought was a novel one. He proposed an Inner City Enterprise Zone, aimed at rebuildign the inner city and giving jobs to the needy. He claimed that industry would step in where the government was stepping out, and the enterprise zone was the ultomut answer-the way that industry would clearly demonstrate its new found benevolence.

Well, it has been a year now and industry has still been slow to respond to the challenge...this commentary is about that problem, but it is also about the reality fo what happens when industry does come back into the inner city.

Over the last two decades Blacks moving up from the South have filled up the inner cities of the East Coast and the midwest. Chicago, Detroit, Pittsburg etc. are filled to the brim with Blacks who find themselves living in substandard housing with poor health care. During the last campaign Ronald Reagan walked through the streets of Harle and said something that everyone else already knew "he called the aplling conditions a national disgrace, and vowed to do something about it. Not with government but with private industry. The problem is, what happens to these people when the bulldozers come in and the new factories go up.

This revitalization will be followed by young middle class whites who will buy up block after block of dilapidated apartment buildings, kick out the black tenants and create their own little mecca in the inner-city. The enterprise zones, will also cause new police precincts to be built to protect these new residents, and this whole process will cause two worlds to exist right down the street from each other...It won't be long before Blacks realize that these new zones are a haven for the white suburbinites and their lives essentially will not be affected.

This process has already been going on for the last ten years--In Seattle, as with other large cities, whites have already taken over a significant chuck of real estate and they are still coming and they want more.

Some of us predicted this trend after the banks admitted that they were redlining the Central Area and vowed to stop. They did...but they gave bank loans to people in the suburbs to buy up the inner city and not to people in the inner-city to fix up their property. The enterprise zones will work the same way...Blacks will have an impossible time getting loans to develop Black Business Districts of our own...and the zones will be a showpiece for white corporate America and a testimony to what happens when the government gets off the back of the rick and lets them steal, rape or pillage any way they want in the name of progress...Ronald Reagan has kept his promise and maybe in 1984 we will be ready to make one to him, but how much will be lose in the meantime...Charlie James...with the Bottomline. charlie James can be heard every week on KRAB RADIO 107.7 FM on the Black Report Friday nights at 8-10 pm.

LEGISLATIVE ALERT!

RE: CLARK AMENDMENT AND U.S. POLICY IN AFRICA

The following are excerpts from Senator Edward M. Kennedy's (D-Mass.) recent statement on the Clark Amendment and U. S. Policy in Africa.

Part I of Two Parts

"I oppose any effort to further weaken the Clark Amendment, which prohibits U.S. assistance to military or paramilitary operations in Angola without specific Congressional approval.

"The Clark Amendment was originally enacted in 1976, after Congress learned the C.I.A. had provided covert military aid and assistance to two of the three contending political parties (FNLA and UNITA) during the 1975-76 civil war in Angola, without prior knowledge or approval of Congress. This secret operation had escalated the conflict, causing unnecessary additional deaths and destruction in Angola.

"Enactment of the Clark Amendment established the firm position in American foreign policy that we could neither promote our own interests nor enhance the prospects of a peaceful solution in Angola by conducting covert operations, apparently in conjunction with the government of South Africa. In addition, the Clark Amendment signified Congress' desire to share an equal responsibility in the making of foreign policy—a responsibility that could not be fulfilled if the President were given full discretion to act as he saw fit while Congress was informed after the fact.

"The Clark Amendment was stringent, but it was deemed necessary to ensure that public debate would take place before any future decisions were made to intervene in Angola. The Amendment requires the President to explain in detail why he believes that supplying assistance to Angolan rebels would be 'important to the national security interests of the United States,' after which the Congress must give its express authorization to any requested aid.

"This is the historical context in which we ought to consider our present policy toward Angola. A repeal of the Clark Amendment not only would be tantamount to turning the clock back to 1975, but would seriously damage our current diplomatic efforts and interests in Africa in a number of ways.

"First, repeal would be a clear signal to Africa and to the world that the United States was reverting to an African policy viewed primarily in terms of East-West competition, with little concern for African needs and priorities.

"Second, repeal would be a severe impediment to any future attempts by the United States to improve relations with the current Angolan government—a government which has long been recognized by our European allies and our friends in Africa and which has pursued a genuinely moderate course.

Have you written to one of your local, state, or national elected officials this week? Remember, your elected officials need to know where, you, their constituents stand on the important legislation that they must consider.

Why not write to your Congressmen and Senators and let them know your feelings about the Clark Amendment?

You may write to your Congressmen and Senators at: Congressional Office Building, Washington, D.C. 20515 or Senate Office Building, Washington, D.C. 20510. Please congratulate them for their important work and let them know every week where Black America stands on crucial issues.

SEXUALLY ABUSED CHILDREN

No one knows exactly how often child sexual abuse occurs, but the National Center on Child Abuse and Neglect estimated a minimum of 100,000 cases a year.

"It is without a doubt the most underreported of child-abuse cases," says Kee McFarlane, a specialist in Sexual-abuse problems for the National Center on Child Abuse and Neglect.

Perhaps more telling than the figures are the deep psychological scars oftem left on sexually abused children. Reactions vary from withdrawal and extreme anxiety to fear of the dark, fear of strangers and regressive behavior such as nail-biting and bed-wetting. The child's performance in school can also be adversely affected with truancy, shortened attention span and poor grades often the result.

Ms. Farlane says cases of sexual child abuse are doubling each year, though she is not sure whether the reason for the growth is that there are more incidents or that there is simply more public awareness and willingness to report those incidents. The latest figures show 6,000 reported cases of sexual child abuse involving family members in 1978, twice the 3,000 reported in 1977. Those figures do not include the thousands of cases in which children are sexually abused by friends or strangers--as distinct from family members--and reported to police, McFarlane said.

Joyce Thomas, head of the child protection unit at Children's Hospital in Washington D.C. says "Sexual abuse has been around since the beginning of time." From January 1978 when the child protection unit was established there, to November 1980, 850 cases of child abuse were reported.

The victims ranged in age from three months to 17 years.

Officials say the child victims of sexual abuse cross all economic levels, from the poor in the ghettos to the rich in the affluent suburbs. At Children's Hospital, officials said cases involve mostly poor families from the inner city, while in other places like Harbor View Medical in Seattle, officials there said their patients are mostly middle-class family members.

Between 85 and 90 percent of the victims are sexually abused by someone they know, officials say. The majority of the persons committing the child sexual abuse are men and the victims girls, McFarlane said.

McFarlane said the average age of known victims of child sexual abuse is six to nine years, much lower than the average of 13 to 14 years a decade ago.

The standard image of the child molester as a lurking stranger has been banished by recent studies. Most victims are abused over an extended period by someone they know and trust, someone they are often physically and emotionally dependent upon-a parent, another family member, a babysitter, neighbor, teacher or playmate.

The incidence of the experience is also far greater than previously thought. According to a 1979 survey of college students, 20 percent of the women and 10 percent of the men said they had been sexually victimized as children without reporting the incidents.

Moreover, all evidence suggest that the likelihood of victimization is the same for the child of a suburban corporation executive as for the inner-city child of an unemployed laborer.

What is clear is that taboos have kept the public--and the medical and legal profession as well--from focusing on the subject. But in recent years, the advent of the women's movement and society's increasing sophistication about sexual issues have led to dramatic change.

What To Do If A Blizzard Traps You

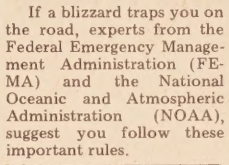
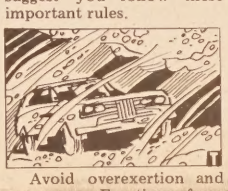
If a blizzard traps you on the road, experts from the Federal Emergency Management Administration (FEMA) and the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration (NOAA), suggest you follow these important rules.



Avoid overexertion and exposure. Exertion from attempting to push your car, shovel heavy drifts and perform other difficult chores during strong winds, blinding snow, and bitter cold of blizzards may cause a heart attack—even for persons in apparently good physical condition.



Stay in your vehicle. Do not attempt to walk out of a blizzard. Disorientation comes quickly in blowing and drifting snow. Being lost in open country is almost certain death. You are more likely to be found, and more likely to be sheltered, in your car.

Don't panic.

Keep fresh air in your car. Freezing wet snow and wind-driven snow can completely seal the passenger compartment.

Beware the gentle killers: carbon monoxide and oxygen starvation. Run the motor and heater sparingly, and only with the downwind window open for ventilation.

Exercise by clapping hands and moving arms and legs vigorously from time to time, and do not stay in one position for long.

Turn on dome light at night, to make the vehicle visible to work crews.

Keep watch. Do not permit all occupants of car to sleep at once.

A special Continuous Childcare Trust program lets you help a poor child. You make a tax-deductible one-time gift of $3,000 and the entire amount is invested by World Vision, Inc. No administrative costs are taken out. The returns on the investment provide a continuing income to sponsor a needy child for the rest of your life and beyond. You'll get a photo of the child and information about his or her family. Each year you'll get a progress report and you can exchange letters with the youngster. Even after you die, needy children will continue to receive the assistance you made possible.

For free leaflets about this program, write to: Booklets Dept., Attention: Miss Hope Adler, World Vision, Inc., 919 West Huntington Drive, Monrovia, CA 91016.

FOOD PSYCHOLOGY

If you're like most people, experts on human behavior observe, you want something you created to live after you in this work. Some people find that satisfaction in their children . . . others in charitable world . . . still others in creating something that wasn't there before. Some people can have all three.

Your fruits and vegetables may stay fresher longer if you line your vegetable bin with paper towels or dry sponges to absorb moisture.

REV. LEO C. BROWN, JR. DAY

Saturday, February 6, 1982 has been proclaimed Rev. Leo C. Brown, Jr. Day by the Mayor of Tacoma, Pierce County Executive and Governor of State of Washington. The schedule for official Proclaimation is as follows:

1. Tuesday, February 2, 1982 - Tacoma City Council at the County City Chambers
2. Friday, February 5, 1982, 9:30 a.m. - Washington State House of Representatives - House Gallery 4th floor, Legislative Building Olympia, WA
3. Friday, February 5, 1982, 10:30 a.m. - Washington State Senate - Location - Senate Gallery, 4th Floor, Legislative Bldg. - Olympia, WA.
4. Saturday, Febuary 6, 9182, 5:30 p.m. - Community Recognition - Location - Beacon Senior Citizen Center, 419 S. 13th St. - Tacoma, WA.

The public is invited to participate in this historic event of our community, in recognition of one of it's distinguished members and community leaders. For further information contact The Tacoma Facts.

Natural Gourmet House

The Natural Gourmet House in Lakewood is owner Tom Shaw's attempt to do what no other restaurant in the Tacoma area is doing.

The restaurant features natural food, but don't look for soybean burgers on the menu. Instead, the fare includes everything from bacon burgers to filet mignon.

The Natural Gourmet House opened in October of last year at the former site of Bob's Big Boy, 10505 Gravelly Lake Drive S.W. in the Villa Plaza Shopping Center.

Shaw, a 29 year-old native of Renton, WA, got into the health food business at the age of 13, though he stresses that his restaurant does not fit the typical health food stereotype. "We're not radical, but they (diners) won't find chemicals in the food that comes out," Shaw says.

In keeping with the restaurant's "nature comes first" theme, a remodeling project is underway that will give the dining establishment a distinctly Pacific Northwest flavor.

When the remodeling work is finished at the end of January the restaurant will seat 105 and will have a banquet room that will accommodate up to 40 people. But whether it be a meal for two or a banquet for 40, patrons will find that everything about the restaurant falls in line with the theme - - - At the Natural Gourmet House nature comes first.

VA 1980 SURVEY REFLECTS HIGH MARKS

Patients in Veterans Administration Health care facilities gave their care high marks in a 1980 survey, but like patients everywhere, they reflected dissatisfaction with waiting times.

The respondents gave the VA's medical facilities very high grades in five of six or the areas. Favorable responses were received from 80 percent or more of the patients on key questions related to physician care, nursing care, food, cleanliness and their perception of "No Negative Events." Hihest grades were received in nursing care and cleanliness, where favorable responses exceeded 90 percent. The perceived attitudes or VA physicians, generally, and staffs of Radiology, Laboratory, food service and canteen services were rated favorably by 92 to 96 percent of the Hospitalized Patients.

Lower ratings among the six key components were in the area of emotional support. According to 59 percent of the In-patients, doctors should take more time to tell them how they are doing, and 48 percent expressed the same complaint about nurses. Lowest ratings dealt with wasting times. Some 34 percent of the In-patients surveyed responded that they waited too long for services. VA medical facility, and detailed information was provided to local VA management to show how patients at their medical centers or clinics view the care they are receiving.

TACOMA PUBLIC LIBRARY PRESENTS: FEBRUARY FILMS AND CRAFT ACTIVITIES

The Tacoma Public Library is presenting free films for schoolage children and free preschool craft activities during the month of February.

Some of the film titles are: Angel and Big Joe; Little Mermaid; Goliah II, Peter and the Wolf; and will be shown at some locations afterschool , and at some locations on Saturday afternoons.

The preschool craft activities will conbine a short story with a simple craft for children ages 3 - 5. Pre-Registration is required and can be accomplished by calling a branch sponsoring the program. Parents are expected to assist their children during the craft activities.

For more information call: 591-5666 (Pre-School Craft Activities), 591-5688 (Films for Schoolage Children), or any Tacoma Public Library Branch.

EDUCATION NEWS

Jobs for youth is the goal of a new National Fair Break Program which could train as many as a million young men and women in basic or high school equivalency schools in three years.

Control Data Corporation, a nationwide computer company, provides the PLATO computer - based education system and services to make the program work. Control Data will also attempt to set up networks of cooperation between federal agencies, community organizations and business to carry out the program's objectives. Fair Break participants may also prepare for General Educational Development (GED) testing by taking the PLATO computer - based High School Skills course.

The most recent U.S. Census data available shows 31 percent of the nation's adult population has neither a high school diploma nor its GED equivalent.

Computer - based GED Testing preparation can make studying for an equivalency diploma much easier than in an ordinary classroom. Students use computers to progress at their own pace. They can also prepare to take GED tests in Spanish or French.

Many companies are considering the Fair Break Program as a means of training current or prospective employees. In addition to computer-based education, Fair Break would help people learn life skills and learn the fundamentals of finding a job.

The PLATO course used in the program is available in one of two ways: Terminals, linked to a powerful Control Data computer, can be installed on the user's premises, or students can train at one of the Control Data Fair Break Centers throughout the country. The High School skills course can also be taken by students and adults at the company's 89 Learning Centers.

Any organization or industry can join with the government in sponsoring a Fair Break Program. It includes proven methods of educating, evaluating and placing the educationally disadvantaged in productive jobs.

For free information, write to Control Data Corp., HQA02Q, P.O. Box 0, Minneapolis, MN 55440.

Purdy Pre-Release Program

By Valerie Parker

In 1971, 92 women transferred from various Penal Institutions to the new Purdy Treatment Center for Women. A facility that receives women convicted of felonies in the state of Washington.

Outside the main security building is an apartment complex containing 11 apartments. Women assigned to these apartments are classified as "minimum custody."

Most of these women engage in volunteer work at hospitals or community agencies. This activity provides experience as well as service to the community.

The women receive $5.00 per week, thus enabling them to purchase personal items. In addition to volunteer work, women who are mothers, have an opportunity to spend time with their children.

Their children are allowed to spend overnight visits with their mothers.

The women are permitted to purchase and cook their own meals. The shopping experience keeps them aware of the cost of food and teaches how to budget their money. Each woman is allotted $21.00 per week or $84.00 per month.

With the approval of the primary counselor, and based on a satisfactory evaluation of the expectation and responsibilities of the woman, outing privileges are allowed.

The purpose of the Pre-Release Program is to provide an opportunity for women to demonstrate behavior appropriate for community interaction and gradual transition back into the community.

Next Week!! Viewpoints from women who have benifitted from the program.

The African Heritage!

At 10 p.m., Feb. 9, "The African Heritage" will be broadcasted on KUOW FM 95. Through comments and performances by trumpeter Hugh Masekela and by the We'se Dance Theatre, this program examines the ongoing cultural interchange between black American and African music. Other performances in the program include The Kontes, a father and son ensemble, who demonstrate the harp-like "Kora," and a group of children who play "patting jibba," a seemingly innocent rhythm game used to convey important messages during the slave era.

Ceremonies In Dark Old Men

As a celebration of Black History Month, NDABA Cultural Ensemble presents a live stage production of the award winning tragic-comedy, "Ceremonies In Dark Old Men", beginning Feb. 5th and 6th at 8:00 pm at the Tacoma Community College Theater, 19th and Mildred.

Additional performances include a 2:00 pm matinee Feb. 7th and 14th, and evening performances at 8:00 pm Feb 6, 11, 12, 13, 18, 19 and 20th.

Directed by William Earl Ray, who also performs, the outstanding cast features Owen "Micky" Satterwhite, Earl Closson Sr., Hollis Belt, Kathy Ray, Larry McIntoush, and Sala Carter.

Filled with lots of very funny comedy, the play takes a look at a Harlem family in the late 60's. The action begins when daughter Adele, (Kathy Ray) threatens to evict her two brothers, (William Earl Ray and Hollis Belt) and her father, (Owen Satterwhite) unless they get a job. The men decide to beat the system by selling their own home brew. A scheme which ends in tragedy.

TICKETS - $3.50 for students and $4.50 for Adults. Availible at the Urban League, Debs Hair Repair, Magix Styling Salon, Tillicum Soul Food Resturant, Baldwin Tire and Brake, Fort Lewis Ticket Office, The Tacoma Bon, The Pottery and at the door.

Black History Month Bazaar

Langston Hughes Cultural Arts Center (104-17th Ave. S.) in conjuction with Black History Month at Langston Hughes will host a community Bazaar at Langston Hughes on Sat., Feb. 13th from 12 noon to 5:00 p.m. The staff is hoping to have approximately 50 tables on display from home made bake goods to hand woven bed spreads. If you are looking for some good buys at a reasonable price tell your friends and spend the afternoon at the center, it won't cost you a thing to look. Refreshments will be sold throughout the day.

If you desire to participate in the bazaar please do so by the 9th of Feb. The cost per table is $5 and the limit is 3 to a person or group. This is a fund raising event for the center, therefore, refunds will not be accepted.

For additional information call 329-0115.

Humanitarian Award Recipient

Woody Woodhouse, noted local citizen, was the recipient of the prestigious Martin Luther King, Jr. Humanitarian Award on Sunday, January 10, 1982. The Award Presentation was a part of the Annual Martin Luther King, Jr. Memorial Birthday Celebration sponsored by the Benefit Guild and King 5 TV. Although, Woody is well known and highly respected as an entertainer and vocalist, he has preferred to keep his multitudinous humanitarian and civil rights efforts out of the spotlight. The Award was based on his long-time involvement with community youngsters and his ever-present willingness to donate his professional services to worthy causes.

Woody is employed as a Dialysis Technican and Assistant Hospital Equipment Manager at Children's Orthopedic Hospital. Following the ceremony, friends and well-wishers engaged in a champagne toast to Woody at an informal reception.

Excerpts from the ceremony, as well as an interview with Woody, were telecast by King TV during a Martin Luther King Jr. special on Friday, January 15,1982.

OVER 40 REVUE

Senator Fleming Joins Jobs & Justice Rally '82

Senator George Fleming, D-Seattle, joined University of Washington workers protesting unemployment, high interest rates and budget cuts at the Jobs & Justice Rally '82 Wednesday, January 20, at the State Capitol. More than 10,000 overflowed the flag plaza during the demonstration against economic policies of the Republican administrations in Washington State and Washington D.C.

FROSTBITE

Exposure to extreme cold can cause frostbite, a freezing of the tissues that may result in permanent damage. Fingers, toes, and the nose are particularly vulnerable to frostbite. Remember that wind aggravates the effect of low temperatures. Skiers and others who are outside for long periods in the cold are vulnerable to frostbie in temperatures of between eight and fifteen degrees Fahrenheit above zero. For warmth, clothes should be put on in layers, with the outer layer being windproof. Warm wool face masks can be worn to protect the face from cold and wind.

Freezing can occur without your being aware of it, but thawing out is a painful process that needs great care if the tissues are to survive unharmed. Under no circumstances should snow be rubbed on the frostbitten part, nor should you massage that part with your hands.

Winter Warning: WATCH THE WIND!

When it's cold, the combination of temperature and wind takes on more importance than ever. Meteorologists of the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration (NOAA), a Department of Commerce agency, call the combined effect on the body the wind chill factor.

It's not so much the temperature as the wind chill factor which makes you feel cold.

As a result of the wind chill factor, a 20 mile per hour wind combined with a temperature of 20 degrees Fahrenheit can have the same bitter cold effect on you as a temperature of minus 10 degrees Fahrenheit when the wind is calm. For example, a minus 10 degree F reading with a 21 mile per hour wind results in a bitter wind chill equivalent of minus 54 degrees F.

During periods of low temperature, you feel cold because of the heat loss your body suffers. That heat loss increases as the wind becomes stronger, which causes you to feel even colder. Meteorologists from NOAA's National Weather Service warn that you should take special precautions to avoid frostbite on cold, windy days.

GOOD. BETTER. BEST.

Why should you spend more to say more in the Bell System Yellow Pages?

You can see the answer at a glance. Impact.

The Bell System Yellow Pages is in 96% of all homes and businesses, used an average of twice a week by 3 out of 4 people. And a bigger ad can give more information, more reasons to do business with you.

In short, it can be the best way for you to sell.

Because 89% of the people that see your ad follow up with a visit, call or letter.

89%. That's almost 9 out of 10.

And that's something to really consider when you match your ad budget against your goals.
